who graciously allowed access to their land for drilling properties.

Additional information and acknowledgments are also included in the document, such as the preparation of the map and the various contributors to the project.